

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Miss Lizzie Gauthier is in Evansville visiting friends.
Mrs. J. S. Fritz is visiting relatives in the country.

Mr. J. M. Frankel is in Louisville this week on business.
Mr. C. M. Plesner is spending this week in Bowling Green.

Mrs. E. H. Petree has returned from a visit to friends in Princeton.

Miss Lily Heister has returned from a visit to relatives at Herndon.

Miss Daisy Klemm, of Clarksville, is visiting relatives in the city.

Mr. A. L. Ford, of Earlinton, is in the city with a view of locating.

Miss Allie Bottomly, of Louisville, is on a visit to relatives in the city.

Miss Nellie Fox has returned from Chicago, where she has been for two years.

Misses Amy and Bettie Guynn, are attending the Sam Jones meeting in Cadiz this week.

Miss Lela Diuguid has returned from a lengthy visit to relatives in the Sinking Fork neighborhood.

Mrs. James M. Howe, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting the family of Mr. E. W. Henderson, on South Main.

Mr. E. B. Bassett has returned from New York, where he had been for two weeks buying fall goods.

Mr. V. H. White has accepted a position with a Nashville publishing house and has been assigned territory in West Tennessee.

Mr. W. H. Peace was called to Nashville Wednesday, his sister, Mrs. G. S. Van Valkenburg, of that city, being dangerously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Metcalfe and Mrs. P. P. Huffman, of Hopkinsville, are visiting the family of Mr. W. H. Barr—Bowling Green Times.

Mrs. J. F. McCaughan, of Millington, Tenn., and Mrs. E. A. Edwards, and daughter, of Paducah, are visiting the family of E. Q. W. S. Goodwin, on North Main.

Last Monday evening Miss Mamie Van Wagner, who has been on a delightful visit to the family of Mr. F. L. Waller, of this city for several weeks, left on a visit to the family of Rev. Salter, of Henderson, where she will remain a few days. She will then go to Bardonia, Ky., and take charge of the department of music in one of the leading institutions of the State. In addition to being an accomplished musician, she possesses all the graces of mind and heart to adorn any social or literary circle.

MATRIMONIAL.
Miss Leona Badger, a very pretty and popular young lady of Nashville, who has frequently visited this city, will be married to Col. Criddle, a prominent Nashville business man, in this month. Miss Badger is a niece of Mr. J. T. Wall, a member of the Mammoth Clothing & Shoe Co. of this city.

GILBERT'S DEATH.—Miss Mary Feland, only daughter of Hon. John Feland, of Owensboro, will be married Sept. 25, to Mr. John Gilmore, of Owensboro. The wedding will be at the "Cottage" Methodist Church and will be a very well attended affair, with couples of attendants. They will take an extended tour and probably go to Europe.

CORRIGAN-JONES.—Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Sam W. Corrigan, of the Madisonville Hustler, to Miss Georgia Jones, daughter of Mr. T. B. Jones, at the Madisonville Baptist Church on Sept. 19, at 2 o'clock p. m. They will take a trip and be at home after October 1.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.
Jas. L. Rogers to Minnie T. West, J. W. Quisenberry to Mary A. Wright.

COLORED.
Willie J. Miller to Lizzie Coleman.

The Cheapest Trip Ever Offered to Mammoth Cave.

An excursion will be run to the Cave by the L. & N. Ry. Monday, Sept. 10, in charge of W. A. Wilgus, T. P. A., arriving at Cave at 10:30 a. m. Leave Cave at 5 p. m. next day, and reach home same night. The fare for the round trip, including fees for both routes in Cave and one and a half days board at hotel is only $10.00. Those who desire to stay longer can have their tickets extended at the Cave and secure a rate of $2.00 per day at Hotel. This is a fine opportunity to explore these wonderful caverns. Give in your name to J. M. Adams, Agt. L. & N. Ry., no provisions can be made.

For Sale, by R. C. Hardwick.

OBITUARY.
Died at her home, in Hopkinsville, Ky., July 24th, 1894, Miss Donna Rutledge, in the 10th year of her age. There is something peculiarly impressive in death, when, as in this instance, it occurs in the bloom of young womanhood, and takes the sunshine from the home and leaves sadness and gloom. Her pure christian life was the joy of the home. With these are interwoven other traits which reach far beyond the immediate circle, and touch many chords of affectionate remembrance. There was an inexpressible charm in the simplicity and unconscious beauty, and grace of character, which summoned her everywhere with an atmosphere of love. She professed religion and joined the C. P. Church when young. Her light was so bright and pure that it seemed like the path of a star, shining with a serene and steady light until its beams are hidden from view by a sorrow.

HERE AND THERE.

Watermelons on ice at McKee's. South Kentucky College will begin its fall session next Tuesday.

Dr. E. N. Fruit, Dentist, office over City Bank, Hopkinsville, Ky.

The Council has appointed Mr. C. E. Kennedy coal oil inspector for the city.

Dr. McDavitt will be out of his office from Monday till Friday of next week.

The Public Schools opened up Monday, with the largest number on record for the first day.

The Baptist Social will meet with Mrs. Cornelia Phelps this (Friday) afternoon at 4 o'clock. Come.

Bain's Temperance Lecture free, Monday, Sept. 10th, subject: "The Safe Side of Life for Young Men."

Bethel Female College opened the fall session Monday with about 40 boarding pupils and others to come next week.

Last Wednesday was the warmest day since Aug. 16, the thermometer registering 91 degrees in the shade at 4 o'clock p. m.

The Council received some more propositions from the Electric light company Tuesday night, but they were not acted upon.

The bodies of Abel Young and Ben Johnson, the boys who were drowned in Cumberland river, near Clarksville, Saturday, have been recovered.

Bain's popular lecture "Among the Masses," Tuesday, Sept. 11th. Admission 40cts. No charge for reserved seats. Tickets on sale at Galbreath's Monday morning.

Miss Frankie Campbell entertained a limited number of her friends Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Allie Bottomly, of Louisville. A very pleasant evening was spent.

The excursion party for the Mammoth Cave will leave next Monday morning. It is an inexpensive trip and will no doubt prove most pleasant to all who avail themselves of it.

The livery and feed stable of Mr. J. M. Jones, at Hanson, was burned Monday, together with seven head of horses and the livery outfit. The fire was evidently of incendiary origin.

Rev. D. S. Bowles will preach his farewell sermon to Vaughan's Chapel congregation on Eliot Rock, on Monday, Sept. 17, at 11 a. m. He desires to leave his congregation as near Heaven as he can.

Rev. Allison, the pastor, assisted by Rev. R. W. Morris, is conducting a series of meetings at Antioch church. Much interest is being manifested and the prospects are flattering for a good meeting.

In this case Mr. C. W. Ware advises two farms for sale near Trenton. One of them is one of the finest farms in Todd county. The other is a small tract of 42 acres and well located. Reach his local in another column.

The exceedingly low rate to the Cave Monday assures a large crowd, and many from this city will go. There will be accommodation for double the number expected on the occasion and all who go may expect a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckner Leavelle celebrated their wedding on Sept. 4, by entertaining a large number of their young friends at the Leavelle household. They have many friends to wish them continued happiness and prosperity.

Mr. McClure Kelly, son of Mr. Walter Kelly, of this city, has been appointed State Adjutant of the Queen Insurance Co., with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Kelly is an exceedingly bright young man and will fill the place with both credit to himself and the company.

In Fulton county, two little sons of Mr. Bell were alone in a room. One of them snatched an unloaded (1) gun at his brother. The weapon went off, severely wounding the boy. The brother who did the shooting went to the doctor and then took to the woods, "crazed with grief." At that accounts the fool killer was still looking for him.

In this case will be found quotations of the Louisville produce market which will appear regularly hereafter correctly weekly. These quotations will be furnished us by J. N. Hager & Co., produce and fruit merchants, 3 N. E. Corner, a member of the firm, was formerly a merchant at Franklin, Ky., and his partner, Everett Hager, has been in business in Louisville for several years. The firm was established two years ago, and is now one of the foremost in trade in that city. George D. Willis, a well-known business man of twenty years experience, and Warner W. Biffich, late of the Commercial staff, are connected with the house. These quotations will be strictly reliable and should prove interesting reading matter to the farmer.

Mr. T. E. Bartley, business manager of the Hopkinsville, has been tendered the position of chief deputy in the postoffice, by Mr. Wilgus and has declined the proffered position. Mr. Bartley is thoroughly wedded to the newspaper business and intends to make it his life work. After giving the offer of Mr. Wilgus the fullest consideration, he has decided to remain in his present business. The Kentuckian will be greatly enlarged and improved as soon as it gets into its new quarters and Mr. Bartley proposes to remain with the paper whose prosperity he has done so much to promote during the last eight years. He fully appreciates the compliment and also the expressions of satisfaction from numerous friends who have urged him to leave the paper, but he has decided to remain.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Mr. Bailey Waller has bought the old Baptist Church property for $3,750 and will occupy it with his furniture store.

The McCarty farm near Gracy operated by Mr. W. A. Reed for 14 years and by Mr. J. J. Reed for the last 4 years, is now the property of six heirs of Mrs. McCarty and will have to be sold for division. The Reed brothers are among the best farmers in the county and the farm is in a high state of cultivation and worth about $30,000. Mr. W. A. Reed now lives near Casey.

Mrs. Mary O. McCarty's will was admitted to probate Monday. She directs that after the payment of all her debts that her property be disposed of as follows: To Miss Betsy McCarty, John W. Chappell, Harriet Baker, Mary Smith, Thos. K. Torian, of Cadiz, and Margaret Northington, of Clarksville, she gives her farm of 800 acres as equal heirs; but she directs that Barrett McCarty, col., shall continue to occupy and use 50 acres upon which he now lives during his natural life. To Mrs. Sarah Orr, she gives the house and lot now occupied by John Orr, in Hopkinsville. She directs that all her personal property on her farm or elsewhere be sold, and after expenses are paid that the remainder be divided between the Christian church in Hopkinsville and the Concord Christian church on the Canton road. E. P. Campbell is named as Executor without bond. The will was made May 20, 1884, with a codicil Nov. 4, 1890.

CREAM OF NEWS

Henry Drexler's Loss.

Mr. Henry Drexler, formerly of this city, now of Madisonville, had the misfortune to lose his entire house, hold effects by fire last Friday. He had $300 insurance.

Wife-Beater Fined.

George Bacon, col., was fined $10 and costs in Judge Morrow's court Wednesday for beating his wife. His wife, Evy Bacon, was also fined $5 and costs, on a warrant charging her with a breach of the peace.

Our Tobacco Market Firm.

Our market this week was firm and steady at last week's quotations. About 300 hogsheads were offered and the rejections were few. Some good leaf changed hands at prices ranging from $9.25 to $10. Lugs were somewhat stronger and a good article was in demand. Receipts are light.

Crushed to Death by the Cars.

Last Saturday night Bud Cook, colored, of Clarksville, secreted himself on the trucks of one of the cars for the purpose of securing a free ride to Louisville. Near Haden'sville, Cook's feet got under the wheels of the train, and both feet were mashed off. The wounded negro was taken back to Clarksville where he died of his injuries Sunday.

Gamblers Captured.

George Reese, Green Reese, John Northington, Sam Dillard, Ben Weathers, Ennis Northington, Tom Knotts and Linck Wallace, all colored, were arrested near Poe Doe last Friday, charged with gaming. They were tried before E. B. Randolph, acting judge for Judge Morrow, Saturday, and each defendant was fined $20 and costs. Judge Brown, who is filling County Attorney L. T. Brasher's office pro tem, prosecuted the cases.

Weather Forecasts.

The week will close with stormy conditions resulting in rain. Cooler weather will likely follow for a few days. By Monday it will turn warm again and more rain may be looked for, after which we will enjoy a few days of cooler weather. The many weather prophets say that the most dangerous storms of the month will occur about the 12th. A very cool wave will naturally follow this storm period and something approaching the frost mark may be expected. There will likely be two or more frosts about the last of the month. Tobacco raisers should take warning.

Shorn of his Locks.

Lee Hudgins, a "punchy" inmate of the Asylum, who was alleged the privilege of leaving the premises occasionally, was assaulted by three men one night not long ago, as he was returning from the city, and for cily deprived of his hair, which he wears in long locks hanging down his shoulders. Hudgins was employed about the garden and was entirely harmless. He was very proud of his hair and is broken hearted over the outrage and has grown much worse in his mental condition. Hudgins claims to know the men and the matter will be laid before the grand jury on the 24th inst. The case comes under the head of klukskluz, the penalty of which is 5 years in the penitentiary. The Board of Commissioners instructed the Patient Committee to vigorously prosecute the case.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, who was turned to marry Abbie Oliver in April, 1893, and whose first wife had murdered the girl on the way back from Morganfield, went over from Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 2, and married Miss Fannie Tate, a young school teacher. Miss Tate is the same condition. Miss Oliver was, both girls having been ruined by Delaney. It is said Delaney was forewarned by a lady Miss Tate, who has been seduced since he got out of jail on the day following his marriage. Delaney's bondsmen surrendered him and he was taken to jail after playing married man a single day. He has greatly profited his case by his actions and it is not unlikely that he may receive a death sentence when he is tried for the murder of a first wife.

Delaney in Jail Again.

Henry Delaney,